Key Strengths

- 1. The founding team has spent time studying, prioritizing, and analyzing customers' problems, and their root causes, before jumping into a solution mode. Often, founders have personally experienced the very problems that they are trying to solve for a larger customer base
- 2. Founders have relevant skills in technologies (e.g., AI, block-chain, and biotech) needed for developing their product or service.
- 3. Founders have the management skills like strategy, business planning, and marketing to help launch and scale their venture
